DR. J. T. HALL of Annapolis, Md., is in the city visiting his sons who are students at the University.

One of the pipes in the upper portion of the Court House burst Wednesday, and caused a leakage that has done much damage to the plastering in the main hall of the building.

REV. MR. HAWES will lecture in the Academy Hall next Tuesday night for benefit of the Methodist church. The lecture was to have been delivered last Monday night but was postponed on account of the extreme cold weather.

FIGHTING THE SNOW.

How the I. A. & T. Train Got Over the Line.

The I. A. & T. train is running regularly now, the road having been cleared of snow and ice through the heroic conduct of Conductor Charley Maner, Engineer Absher, C. W. Little and Charley Clark.

It took four big engines to push through on the L. & N. after the snow storm, and it would not have been wonderful if the little I. A. & T. should have felt daunted under the difficulties that beset it; but Sunday afternoon Conductor Maner determined to start out with his train, let the obstacles be what they may.

The snow was piled in deep drifts on the road bed, and all the tanks were frozen up, making it impossible to get water by that means. Besides this, the mercury being away down below zero, it required more than ordinary bravery to venture out on such an undertaking.

When one of these snow drifts was reached, Mr. Absher would just pull open the throttle and let the little engine plow through. While this was going on the snow would fly back in dense clouds, blinding the men aboard the engine.

The train men were materially assisted at Howell Station by Messrs. Jesse Evans and Whit Redford. These gentlemen went to work and hauled water for the engine, and by their energetic efforts enabled it to proceed on its way.

The railroad officials also express themselves under obligations to Esq. Tom Majors, at Herndon, for assistance given and favors shown them.

Conductor Maner says it was a pretty tough trip, but nevertheless a successful one. The track is now free of snow, and the train is running regularly. The gentlemen deserve much praise for their heroic undertaking. It will be a very cold day when such men don't succeed with what they attempt.

River Items.

The river continues to fall and is full of heavy ice two or three inches thick. No damage has been done here. Gracely & Bro., are protecting the wharf by nailing on heavy oak plank.

No boats up or down for several days, though Capt. Ryman telegraphs that the Cherry should be here to-day on her up trip.

The ferry boat has not been able to cross for two days. A few people venture across in the skiff.

The ice broke up the pontoon bridge at Nashville Wednesday, but did very little damage to other crafts.

Capt. Perkins will have his bath house ready in a few days.

Col. Geo. F. AKERS died Tuesday afternoon of alcoholism at the city hospital in Nashville. Col. Akers for a number of years just after the war was one of Nashville's leading tobacco merchants. He was born in Virginia. His business affairs became involved several years ago and he lost nearly all his property. He was at one time fish commissioner of the State. He was a genial companion, able man, and not a few will regret to hear of his death. He was not married.

H. C. Carter, Esq.

Waverly News: Our readers are this week greeted with the announcement of our townsman, H. C. Carter, for Attorney General of this judicial district. In presenting the name of Mr. Carter to the public, it is not improper that we add a word of himself, though to citizens of this county that knows him so well it is wholly unnecessary. Mr. Carter is a Perry county man, born and reared, and in a great degree a self-made man, having thus far, regardless of difficulties, carved out his own way, always deserving and having the confidence and respect of every community in which he has lived. Nine years ago he was admitted to the bar, and since has been actively engaged in the practice of the law, has been engaged at this alone, and in this while has enjoyed a lucrative practice, and to-day in the matter of legal attainment, and learning, personal integrity and morals, is the peer of any young attorney in the State. He removed from Linden to this town in 1882, and since living here his going out and coming in has won, in a remarkable degree, the confidence of this people, and if he shall be elected by the suffrage of the electors of the Tenth Judicial District to the position sought, he will discharge the duties of the office with marked ability and great credit to himself.

The next meeting of the Club will be at Mr. Clay Stacker's, on Monday night, the 18th inst. The appointees are: Readers, Misses Hulah Lovell, Beach, Lou Lovell, Messrs. Clay Stacker, Price and Will Lupton; music—Miss Smith, Mrs. Kennedy, Miss Mooring, Miss Yancey and Messrs. Macrae and Viser.

QUILTY.

Is the Verdict in the Wiley Bryan Case.

The jury in the case of the State vs. Wiley Bryan, charged with writing indecent letters enclosing obscene pictures, etc., to Miss Dorman, of this city, and thereby attempting her seduction, returned a verdict of guilty Thursday, fixing the punishment at three years in the penitentiary.

Bryan and his friends consider the verdict an outrage and say that it was not justified by the evidence in the case. He still insists on his innocence and an appeal will be taken to the Supreme court. The case has attracted very general interest and the court room was crowded to hear the verdict.

GREENEVILLE, Tenn., has so far and favorably progressed as a tobacco market as to induce the establishment of a tobacco factory at that point. The firm will be known as the Greenville Tobacco Manufacturing Company, and has a cash capital of $10,000 with which to begin operations. Plug and twist will be the character of tobacco manufactured, and as the purchase of tobacco for it commenced with the new year, the Greenville market will receive renewed impetus. Greenville has energetic, progressive men among its citizens.

REV. SAM JONES has commenced a revival meeting at Cincinnati.
